KORNILOFF COUP HAS COLLAPSED; KERENSKY WINS

General Krymoff, Commander of Cossacks Arrested by His Own Soldiers

PREMIER OF NEW REGIME URGED TO CHANGE PLANS

Leaders Impressed Upon Him Necessity of Placating Conservatives

Petrograd, Sept. 14.—Further evidence of defection in the ranks of the Cossacks from General Korniloff is given by the arrest near Luga of General Krymoff. The Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates sent a deputation to the soldiers to explain the situation, whereupon the Cossacks declared they were ready to arrest their commander, provided an order was received from Premier Kerensky. The council telegraphed to the premier, who ordered General Krymoff's arrest. General Krymoff submitted without resistance, and was brought to Petrograd. The Cossacks of his command have joined the government forces in the Luga garrison. Railway service between Luga and Petrograd has been resumed.

Petrograd, Sept. 14.—Premier Kerensky tonight issued an order giving to the military government of Petrograd special powers with regard to the press. Petrograd has entirely recovered its calm, a remarkable effect of the suppression of the revolt being that the panic rush from the capital caused by the fall of the Baltic port of Riga has ceased. On the Dvina where only private deals are transacted, there was a sharp rise in securities.

From Moscow, it is reported that refugees have begun returning to Petrograd. Doubtful elements in the provinces who would have backed General Korniloff had he succeeded, are pending resignations in support of the provisional government.

New Cabinet Progressing. The new cabinet is progressing toward completion though friction has again arisen between the constitutional democrats and the socialists. The constitutional democrats last night announced to Premier Kerensky that the government must take a lesson by removing the causes and not repeating the mistakes which caused it. Otherwise, they said General Korniloff's adventure would be repeated by someone else.

The revolt, declared that constitutional democrats, undoubtedly was the fruit of extreme dissatisfaction in the more conservative classes. Therefore, the government must render reasonable satisfaction to the conservative demands and resist pressure to move it toward the left.

TRIES TO KILL HIMSELF. After being received by Premier Kerensky at the winter palace and informed of the fate which awaited him, General Krymoff, commander of the Korniloff troops which were sent against Petrograd, returned to his lodgings tonight and shot himself. His wounds were not fatal.

The provisional government has sent an extraordinary special commission to the Russian army headquarters in the field to investigate the Korniloff affair.

WILSON INSISTS ON INSURANCE FOR SOLDIERS

Washington, Sept. 14.—Plans for adjourning congress without senate action on the soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill were much disarranged today on an authoritative announcement that President Wilson would insist that the measure become a law before congress adjourns. There is strong sentiment in the senate for closing up business and letting the bill wait for the December session.

WOULD HAVE FIRE HALL

Braddock Village Council Contemplates Bond Election

Braddock, N. D., Sept. 14.—The village council has held a special meeting to consider a bond election for the purpose of providing funds for the erection of a fire hall to house the village's recently purchased fire fighting equipment. It is probable that an election will be called within a month.

EPIDEMIC OF FLYING ANTS DRIVES HORSES FROM WORK IN FIELD

Steele, N. D., Sept. 14.—An epidemic of flying ants, a pest not common to this country, is reported by H. J. Schnautz, who advises that the little insects so excited his horses that he was compelled to take them out of the hay field and suspend haying operations until the cloud of ants had passed on.

$400,000 Is Found Hidden In the Hills

A Cowboy Stumbles Upon the Cache and Tries to Locate the Owner

Phoenix, Sept. 14.—The discovery of a $400,000 cache in the hills of Graham county is reported by H. R. Whitman, of Solomonville, who is now in Chandler. The discovery was made by Joe Walsey, a cowboy, who is making efforts to discover the former owners according to Whitman. While hunting stray cattle, northwest of Solomonville, Walsey found a tree trunk from which the handle of a shovel protruded. Investigation disclosed an iron box containing old Spanish gold coins, and gold vessels, the intricate workings of which is said to bring the value of the find up to about $400,000 estimated as its worth in bullion. The gold has been taken to Safford. Old residents of that section declared Walsey had discovered a hiding place of priests who left that section about 75 years ago, when it was a part of Mexico. It has always been thought that priests buried the church wealth before fleeing.

OVER MILLION UNDER ARMS BEFORE DRAFT

Military Strength of Nation Made Public in Statement of House

WITH CANTONMENTS FILLED TOTAL NEARLY 2,000,000 MEN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—In the belief that the country does not understand the military strength of the nation, the military committee of the house has today published in the congressional record a statement prepared at its request by the committee on public information for the government.

On Sept. 6, 1917, the statement says "there were in the regular army, national guard and reserve corps of the national army 78,823 officers and 741,053 enlisted men; in the navy there were 141,887 enlisted men, 41,473 naval reserves and 14,500 of the naval militia in the federal service. There were 5,000 men in the coast guard and 6,300 in the hospital corps, making a total of 209,240. Enlisted strength of the marine corps was 29,971; reserves in the services, 1,070; national naval volunteers, 704; retired men on active duty, 14. There were approximately 12,000 officers in the navy and 1,160 in the marine corps."

In other words, on that date, the army had, including officers and enlisted men, 319,801, and the navy had 254,265, making a total armed strength on that day of 1,074,146 men, all of whom were volunteers. Prior to that time there was not a drafted soldier in a single training camp. The draft law was approved May 18, 1917.

I. W. W. MEMBERS TRY INVASION OF ARIZONA FIELD

Bisbee, Ariz., Sept. 14.—Men who were deported from Bisbee as members of the I. W. W. and their sympathizers on July 15, were expected to return here in large numbers today from the camp at Columbus, N. M., where they had been staying since their deportation. The agents of the El Paso & Southwestern Railroad company at Douglas reported that a freight train on which 100 men were riding, would arrive early today. Douglas officers announced their intention of sending the men on to Bisbee, together with 25 others, who arrived yesterday and last night and who were locked in jail over night. Fifty-two of the deported men today turned up at Bisbee yesterday. Many of them said they came merely to obtain their personal effects and left after their affairs were attended to. Twenty-four were held in jail last night, seven on charges of failing to respond to the selective draft call.

Paris, Sept. 14.—R. A. N. Hall, of Minneapolis, a driver in section 62, of the Hartjes-Norton Red Cross Ambulance service was killed on Tuesday while on duty at an advance post and was buried near Avocourt Wood, says the Herald today. The shell which killed Hall wounded his companion, B. E. Sylvester, of Plainview, Minnesota, although not seriously.

KERENSKY IS BUSY UPON HIS NEW CABINET

General Korniloff States That He Will Surrender When Alexieff Arrives

SLAY ARMIES AT FRONT SHOW FIGHTING SPIRIT

General Cadorna Still Fighting Stubbornly for Control of Vantage Point

(By Associated Press.) Convinced that General Korniloff's rebellion is definitely at an end, although the general himself has not formally surrendered, the leaders at Petrograd are setting about the reconstruction of the government. Formation of a new cabinet is said to be well along toward completion.

The submission of so many of the troops and the leaders who were adhering to Korniloff apparently has left the leader of the revolt helpless. He is said to have notified the government of his intention to surrender upon the arrival at his headquarters of General Alexieff, who has become chief of staff under Premier Kerensky, now commander-in-chief of the Russian armies.

Display Fighting Spirit. Meanwhile the Russian armies at the front, particularly in the northern sections, are displaying fighting spirit, and according to the official statement, are regaining some of the recently abandoned ground to the Germans in the Riga district. Several villages have been occupied, probably in a movement to consolidate the Russian positions and to organize a defensive line which would be cohesive in case of an attack.

Activity on the other battle fronts, except the Austro-Italian, where General Cadorna is still fighting for the offensive on one section on the Flanders front, however, and it is claimed by the Germans that Wednesday night the British were expelled from the wooded district north of Langemarck, the Germans taking numerous prisoners in the operation.

BOARD GERMAN SHIPS

Montevideo, Sept. 14.—Uruguayan marines today boarded all the German ships in the harbor here, the government having heard of plans to sink the vessels.

INFILTRATION LOSSES. Berlin, Sept. 14.—Violent German "shock" units yesterday penetrated as far as the second French line west of Guisancourt on the Aisne front and inflicted heavy losses on the defenders, according to the German war office statement today. In Flanders the battle increased to drum fire, but no English attacks developed, the announcement adds.

CREATE NEW DEPARTMENT

Paris, Sept. 14.—The new French cabinet contains a new ministry at first called the ministry of propaganda, but later changed to the ministry of missions abroad. The ministry consists of 15 titular ministers, four ministers of state and 11 under-secretaries. The new ministers are divided among five senators, 11 deputies and two who do not belong to parliament. The 11 under-secretaries are all members of the chamber of deputies. Sixteen of the new cabinet members have been ministers or under-secretaries in previous cabinets and three are former premiers. The political group representative in the new ministry do not include the unified socialists.

MONTANA READY TO COOPERATE TO SOLVE GRAVE HAY PROBLEM

Montana stands ready to co-operate with North Dakota in the solution of the hay problem, is advice received by the railway commission today from Charles O. Greenfield, commissioner of agriculture and publicity, and J. H. Hall, commissioner of public service, both of whom state their intention of taking this matter up with the Montana defense council at that body's next meeting. Secretary Calderhead of the North Dakota rail board had communicated with the Montana officials, telling them what North Dakota is endeavoring to do.

TEAM RUNS AWAY; BOY'S FOOT LEFT HANGING BY SHRED

Minot, N. D., Sept. 14.—Ole, eight-year-old son of E. J. Blair of Robb, is in a hospital here with one of his feet hanging by a shred as a result of the youngster's being caught by a binder drawn by a runaway team of horses. Blair was driving the animals and was unable to control them but sat helpless and saw them run down the boy.

PRICE SHOULD APPLY AT THE NEAREST MART

Taft Agrees Tax Closest Terminal Market Should Be Used as Basis for Wheat

GRAIN CANNOT BE SOLD AT LESS THAN MAXIMUM

Amendment Provides for Sale Only at Established United States Standard

SHORTAGE RELIEVED. Minneapolis, Sept. 14.—The wheat shortage situation, which threatens to curtail the temporary closing of several local flour mills, was greatly relieved today by the receipt of 464 carloads, and it was announced that practically every mill in the city is again operating.

"Mr. Taft left Washington convinced that the established price of $2.20 should apply at the nearest terminal, and not at Chicago, as the price-fixing committee has decreed, and I am convinced that he will do his utmost to put the food administration change on a basis, in order that North Dakota may be assured $2.20 for its wheat at its nearest terminal, which would be the Twin Cities," said Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, J. N. Hagen today. "This would mean a difference of three to five cents a bushel in favor of the spring wheat states," said Mr. Hagen.

Bismarck elevators today are paying $2.08 for No. 1 wheat, this price being based on the fixed price of $2.20 per bushel. The 57-pound wheat in Chicago, however, at local dealers' prices, is said to be the $2.20 basis. According to their interpretation of the committee's acts, is based on No. 2 wheat, or grain running 57 pounds to the bushel and which would grade No. 2 in Bismarck. This makes the price for No. 1 wheat, on a Chicago basis, and if No. 1 were bought locally on a Minneapolis basis price, the farmer probably would receive $2.10 or better. There is very little wheat raised in North Dakota which will not weigh 56 pounds or better to the bushel, it is said, the only obstacle to a No. 1 grade being the presence of small proportions of barley and inseparable weed seed.

To Assure a Maximum

As predicted yesterday, the special representative of Food Administrator Hoover agreed prior to his departure to the modification of the 30-day storage clause in such a manner as to assure a maximum price to the farmer. The clause, as amended, reads: "It is agreed that if the grain represented by this receipt shall remain in storage more than 30 days without permission from the United States food administration, the warehouseman is authorized to ship it to the nearest terminal market OR ANY OTHER TERMINAL MARKET TO WHICH THE FREIGHT RATES ARE THE SAME, and sell it on behalf of the holder of this receipt for the best price obtainable, BUT NOT LESS THAN THE PRICE FIXED BY THE UNITED STATES PRICE-FIXING COMMISSION; PROVIDED THAT UNTIL SUCH GRAIN IS SHIPPED, AFTER THE EXPIRATION OF SAID 30 DAYS, IT SHALL REMAIN SUBJECT TO THE ORDER OF THE HOLDER OF THIS RECEIPT."

Taft Farm's Friend. Taft farm's friend in Bismarck expressed surprise when advised that the interpretation locally placed on the price-fixing commission's acts was that the $2.20 applied at Chicago. He had been confident, he said, that the commission intended this price to apply at the nearest terminal market. In a lengthy conference with Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor Hagen yesterday he agreed that this price should apply at the nearest terminal market, and when he amended the storage clause to read "but not less than the price fixed by the United States price-fixing commission," he had in mind $2.20 per bushel at the nearest terminal. Mr. Hagen believes Taft will keep this matter in mind upon his return to Washington, and that further good news for the grain-grower may be expected in the course of a few days.

With regard to the storage of seed wheat, Mr. Taft gave out the following statement: "The food administration regards the regulation to limit storage of wheat to 30 days in public elevators as essential to prevent speculation and insure a proper distribution of wheat; but in cases where elevators or farmers desire to retain wheat for seed purposes, special permission to store such wheat in public elevators can be obtained upon application to the United States food administration at Minneapolis and upon compliance with certain regulations tended to assure the administration that such grain is to be held for seed and not with speculative intent. To prevent such speculation, the food administration will place a limit on the selling price of such seed wheat in elevator storage at fifteen percent over the present price, thus (Continued on Page Three.)

LIKE NICHOLAS AND CONSTANTINE, SWEDEN'S KING HAS GERMAN WIFE

King Gustav of Sweden

Queen Victoria, Daughter of the German House of Baden, Has Made Sweden Kaiser's Ally.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—In the fresh revelations of Sweden's role as the cat's paw of Germany, allied diplomats in Washington see another striking instance of the Kaiser's use of the god of love to strengthen the hands of the god of war.

By the intermarriage of German princesses with other royal families some of the innermost circle in almost every monarchy in Europe have been made pro-German. The bonds of wedlock become the bonds of state.

Queen Victoria, wife of King Gustav V of Sweden, was Princess Victoria of Baden, when she married the present ruler of Sweden in 1881. Baden is one of the largest, most populous and most important of the southern German states.

Although Sweden was ostensibly neutral, there has been no doubt where Queen Victoria stood in the present world war. She was true to her blood, and was one of those who have revived for use in describing Germany the old saying about Rome, the great military empire of earlier days, making it read, "Once a German, always a German."

Queen Victoria has been in close touch with her homeland throughout the present war. She has offered personal succor, and has intrigued her country into offering the aid of a pseudo-neutral in furnishing foodstuffs and military supplies.

She has spent much time in Germany, she was at Karlsruhe, Germany, during the British air raid on that place in the middle of 1915. It increased her inborn hatred of the British.

She has not dissembled. She has repeatedly proclaimed her pro-German sentiments in public. The best informed Scandinavian neutral observers insist popular feeling in Sweden has been strongly against the Kaiser, especially since the unrestricted submarine warfare took heavy toll of Swedish shipping and put Sweden's commercial interests in a hole through the American embargo. But the German queen has been able to infect the government circles, the aristocracy and the army clique with pro-Germanism.

DIPLOMAT WAS USED BY TEUTON AS MESSENGER

Von Eckhardt Urged That Sweden's Agent Be Honored by Decoration

GOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE IS NOT DISCLOSED

Evidence of Friendship With Central Powers Gathered by State Department

Washington, Sept. 14.—How Germany's secret practice of using Sweden's diplomatic service for transmitting forbidden communications between German agents and the Berlin foreign office prevailed in Mexico as well as in Argentine is revealed in a document published by the state department, which passed between the celebrated Herr von Eckhardt, German minister in Mexico, and the imperial German chancellor.

Acted as Messenger. It discloses how Folke Cronholm, in charge of the Swedish legation to Mexico, practically acted as a messenger-boy for von Eckhardt, personally transmitting as his legation's own dispatches messages for the German legation, even going to the point of delivering them personally at the telegraph office, and how von Eckhardt recommended that a decoration be secretly bestowed on Cronholm for his services.

Use of Neutrals. As an added chapter to the story of the recently revealed intrigue in Argentine, the disclosures give a hint of the nature of the evidence in this government's possession of Germany's illegitimate use of neutral diplomats. The full extent of this evidence may never be published, but it is known to be complete, and this government's action in making some of it public is not felt to be directed so much at Sweden as toward informing the world at large of Germany's practices.

Urged Decoration for Swede. It does, however, raise some speculation as to how the Stockholm foreign office will explain it. The interesting point, in the minds of officials and diplomats here, is how much the Stockholm foreign office knew of the affair.

Von Eckhardt's letter to the German chancellor relating the extent to which Cronholm used Sweden's diplomatic privileges for Germany and his recommendation of an imperial decoration for him is regarded by allied diplomats here as further evidence of their charge that Germany has distributed decorations among the diplomats of friendly neutrals for such services, probably in other instances.

Copies of von Eckhardt's letter have been forwarded by the state department to Ambassador Fletcher in Mexico and to Minister Morris at Stockholm, but neither has instructions to present their information to the government to which he is accredited.

Dispatches to the department from the Hague, dated yesterday, were that up to that time the disclosures made by Secretary Lansing of the manner in which Count Luxburg had used the Swedish minister in Argentine as a bearer of dispatches had not been published in Germany. It is expected that this government will not take any further action, except possibly to add to the story of intrigue by revealing more documents in its possession.

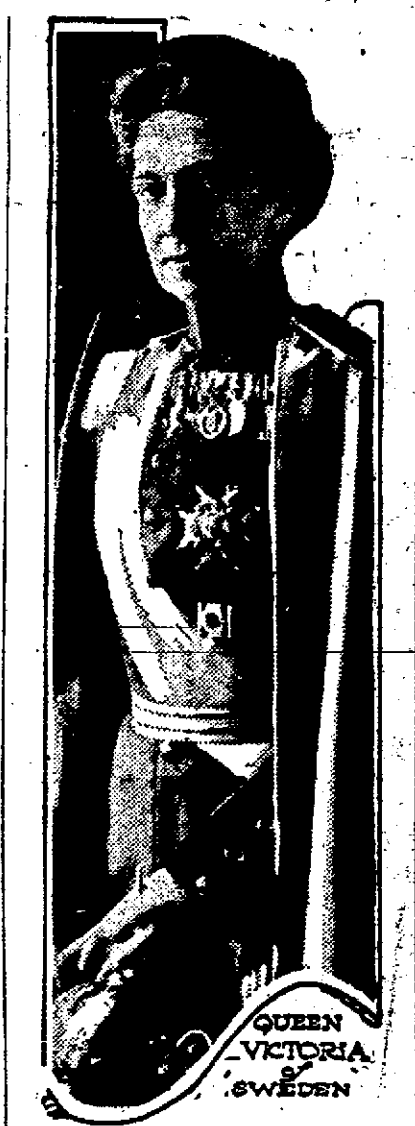

TO INVESTIGATE

London, Sept. 14.—An official statement, issued by the Swedish government and telegraphed to the correspondent at Stockholm of the Central News agency, says that C. A. M. Everloef, secretary of the Swedish ministry of foreign affairs, has been given leave of absence from the foreign office and has placed himself at the disposition of the minister of justice, with the object of assisting in the special investigation in connection with the Swedish-Argentine revelation.

HAZEN ENTHUSIASTIC OVER ITS HOME GUARD

Spanish-American War Veterans Take Leadership in Organization of Company

Hazen, N. D., Sept. 14.—The Hazen home guard was organized under the supervision of First Lieut. T. G. C. Kennedy of the Mandan home guard, Wednesday evening. The officers chosen are as follows: Captain, Gust Lindquist; first lieutenant, Samuel Olds; and second lieutenant, Philip Schafer. The Mandan party returned home last evening from Hazen and they say that the Hazenites are more than enthusiastic over the new undertaking. The captain and first lieutenant are Spanish-American war veterans. Phil Schloesser, second lieutenant, was in the Mandan company three years.

Queen Victoria of Sweden

of over a million men. However, Sweden in the war would be unable to outfit and maintain these troops. Diplomats agree the Kaiser would rather have Sweden a funnel for supplies for his own troops already organized, than to lose this source of raw material and have a larger military force, with a shortage of munitions and supplies.

The Swedish naval strength is negligible. It is not needed by Germany in the Baltic, and it would not enable Germany to force an issue in the North sea.

GRAND COUNCILLOR TO ATTEND U. C. T. AFFAIR

Fort Dodge Cantonment Where Five Thousand North Dakota Boys Will Train

Birds-Eye view of mobilization point of Northwest drafted men. Forty per cent of North Dakota's quota will leave for this cantonment next Wednesday.

By STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Des Moines, Sept. 14.—The 45,000 conscript soldiers will not be forced to commune with cows and chickens, isolated from the warmth of the city, when they come to the Thirtieth Divisional cantonment to begin their war training.

Camp Dodge, their home for the fall and winter, is just ten miles from the business center of Des Moines, a city of 106,000. It is thirty minutes ride on the interurban and there will be trains every 15 minutes if soldiers need them.

There are 17 committees of business and professional men on the job in Des Moines, preparing for the coming of the 45,000 men from the states of Illinois, Iowa, North Dakota and Minnesota. Their duty is to see that everybody treats the men in olive drab and khaki right. One of the first accomplishments of the transportation committee was an agreement on the part of the interurban company to reduce the fare to soldiers to ten cents each way. The fare is 20 cents. And civilians will continue to pay it.

Des Moines is dry. It was the largest city to voluntarily close the doors of its saloons. They were closed three years ago. The city's restricted district was destroyed six years ago. There are no cabarets. On of the 17 committees will open a big soldiers' club in the center of the business district for all soldiers. Masonic Nobles of Shrine Temple have offered their sanctum to the fighting men. Another committee, representing the leading business establishments of the city, has been charged with the service of preventing any raises in prices not justified and to see that the soldier gets the same price as the civilian. Another is establishing a large library for the exclusive use of the soldiers.

Another committee is listing every available room in hotels, apartment houses and residences and will maintain a special bureau to see that the mothers, sweethearts, relatives and friends of the soldiers are properly cared for.

Near Golf Course.
The Thirtieth District cantonment begins on the golf course of the fashionable Hyperion golf club and stretches up the valley of the Des Moines river for three miles. Its 194 soldier barracks and other buildings spread over 4,000 acres. One thousand acres of growing corn was destroyed and paid for by the government to make room for the barracks. The barracks are built in rows of four and extend for a mile and a half along the even slope of the valley. All are practically complete. Constructing Quartermaster Butler says the cantonment will be ready for the 16,000 men ordered to report Sept. 5 on Sept. 19. The entire camp will be completed October 1.

Aviation Unit.
Indications now are that a full aviation unit will be trained at Camp Dodge. Thirty-two aeroplanes are required for each unit. The aviation site is situated immediately below the barracks where the Illinoisans can see the armen at work, learning the war game of the clouds, from barrack windows. A heavy artillery range is being established at the far end of the cantonment grounds. A remount station where 5,000 animals will be stationed is also under construction.

The physical welfare of the soldiers will be well cared for. The government has just ordered the construction of a base hospital with 1,500 beds at the cantonment. It has also ordered that Fort Des Moines, the regimental army post five miles from the city be converted into a big general hospital where leading physicians of the country will work. Even the stable buildings are to be remodeled into hospital buildings.

A total of 45,712 men are coming to Des Moines. Illinois will furnish 9,258, Minnesota 17,334, Iowa 12,749, and North Dakota 5,806.

Major General Plummer, commandant took charge August 25. Colonel P. Brown is his chief of staff. General Plummer comes from the command of the canal zone.

The various railroads in the northwest will have representatives present and they will act as speakers. The subject to be discussed will be the cream, express rates, cream stations, expenditures of license money and recommendations to the legislature.

SUE FARMERS.
Action was brought yesterday afternoon by the Sweet Briar Elevator company against 25 farmers of the Sweet Briar vicinity to force them to pay for notes they had issued in the payment for shares in the company. The notes aggregate over $2,000. The farmers who issued the notes claim that they did not receive any certificate to show that they were stockholders in the concern, or in fact not even a receipt for their notes, and since the company had failed in business did not see why they should be held liable and refuse to pay the notes. The cases were tried before Judge H. L. Henke yesterday afternoon. Sullivan & Sullivan represented the plaintiff and B. W. Shaw represented the defendants.

Although the actions brought by the elevator company are separate claims filed against each man who issued a note or notes, the decision rendered in one case applies to the majority of the cases.

There will be about 300 invitations sent out. Special music is to be secured for the occasion and there will be nothing left undone to make the initial event

MANDAN SCHOOL ENROLLMENT IS 600

Expected That This Number Will Be Increased Soon by Seventy-Five.

With a total enrollment of 600 pupils in the Mandan public schools and the probability of that number being increased by over 75 after fair week the 1917-18 school term enrollment in the city schools exceeded by about 100 the enrollment of last year. The largest increase is in the eighth grade. Last year there were but 38 enrolled at the beginning of the term and this year there are 62 with more being added daily. Superintendent Love stated to a Tribune reporter that he would not be surprised if the total enrollment for the eighth grade will amount to 75 before the close of the present school term. The increase in the high school is not as large as was anticipated. The increase is between 25 and 30. The Custer school increase in attendance is about twenty pupils while the enrollment at the Bismarck school is about the same as a year ago.

Need More Teachers.
This year with the new high school building sufficient room is provided, but there is apparently a deficiency in the number of teachers. The English and history classes are especially large. Not until Monday will the English and history programs be conveniently arranged. Superintendent Love stated that it is possible that another teacher will be secured later on in the term to assist with the high school work.

Present Staff.
The present staff in the city schools is as follows: City superintendent of schools, C. L. Love; principal of high school, C. L. Coddling; assistant principal and teacher of mathematics, Miss Nora Healy; languages, Miss Lenore Browning; English, Miss Minnie Tausen; domestic science, sewing and history, Miss Grace Umpleby; H. J. Bestul, athletics and science. STAGE ALL SET FOR GREAT BALL AT THE CAPITOL

Anticipated That 500 Couples Will Attend Brilliant Event This Evening

USHERS IN FULL DRESS MILITARY REGIMENTALS

The stage is set for the year's most brilliant military event—the Elks' military benefit ball for the Bismarck units of the two North Dakota national guard regiments, to be held in the house chamber at the capitol this evening.

The finishing touches to the big legislative hall were applied by Chief Custodian Laist of the capitol this morning. One of the last important preliminaries was the hanging of a portrait of President Wilson. Old Glory is in evidence everywhere, and in no detail of the decorations has the patriotic significance of the occasion been lost sight of.

Twelve members of Co. I, Second North Dakota infantry, in full dress military regiments, have been detailed by Captain A. B. Welch to act as ushers this evening. All officers and enlisted men attending tonight will wear uniform. For civilian guests either evening dress or business attire will be in good taste. The committees have insisted upon informality, in order that all of the friends of the soldier boys and the soldiers themselves may feel free to attend and enjoy what probably will be the last social event the boys will have an opportunity to take in before they are called away.

A splendid dance program of 24 numbers has been arranged by Director Bachman of the Second regimental band of Harvey, which will furnish music for the evening. The grand march is announced for 9 o'clock sharp, and dancing will continue until 1 o'clock or later. Refreshments will be served throughout the evening, this detail having been placed in the hands of the most capable committee.

The capitol street car will run at fifteen-minute intervals for the accommodation of guests. The entire capitol will be ablaze with lights and the occasion promises to be one long to be remembered in Bismarck.

HAND TORN OUT OF ITS SOCKET IN FEED OF SILAGE CUTTER

Hazleton, N. D., Sept. 14.—While feeding an ensilage cutter, Clarence White, a young man employed by C. D. Sloan, suffered his hand to be drawn into the blades, which literally pulled the member out of the socket at the wrist joint. White had stopped work for the evening when he decided that so little fodder remained that he might as well finish it. It was while starting the machine to resume operations that the accident occurred.

MORE MONEY FOR STATE AND COUNTY ROAD FUNDS FROM AUTOMOBILE TAXES

More money for the state and county highway funds was distributed this week by H. M. Wallis of the automobile registration department. In making the August apportionment, during the month 2,284 automobiles, 83 motorcycles and 18 dealers were licensed. The state highway commission received $4,068.20 as its share of the proceeds, and $2,033.93 goes to the various counties.

DEPARTMENT SOON TO BE IN A POSITION TO MAKE OWN GRAIN TESTS

The state grain grading and inspection department soon will have installed at its offices in Fargo a complete grain grading and testing equipment. Apparatus valued at several hundred dollars has been ordered and is being installed. Heretofore the department has been compelled to rely upon the agricultural department for these tests. Hereafter the tests will be made in the office of the grain grading commissioner, and much time will be saved. Scores of samples upon which tests and grades are desired are being received every day, and the service is expected to be much more satisfactory. Tests of every kind can be made with this equipment, except milling, for which the department must continue to rely upon the agricultural college.

NO VACANCIES FOR GOVERNOR, ARGUES BOARD

Attorney Aubrey Lawrence Representing Defense in Ouster Suit Brings Up New Point

BRENNAN SUBMITS HIS CASE ON OLD BRIEFS

That any statutory provision as to the right of the governor to fill vacancies would not apply in the appointment of board members to succeed Emil Scow and J. A. Power, on the state board of regents, inasmuch as there is no vacancy created by removal, death or any other condition arising under the acts governing, but two terms to be filled in accordance with the statute creating the state board of regents, at a certain time and in a certain manner specified by the act, was the only new argument brought forward by Attorney Lawrence in the second ouster suit brought by Governor Frazier, through the attorney general's office.

"This matter was permitted to drag along until after July 1, when the terms of the two members expired, and until the governor saw an opportunity by filling these two places to gain control of the board," said Attorney Lawrence.

"Now you are appealing to prejudice and not logic," interrupted Judge Grace from the bench. "If there is a reasonable doubt, it should be in favor of the executive act," volunteered Judge Robinson, and the Gate City barrister was subjected to several minutes of spirited heckling at the end of which he completed the presentation of his case and retired in good order.

Uses Old Briefs.

Assistant Attorney General Daniel V. Brennan submitted the case for the administration on the same briefs used in the former ouster proceeding, in which an effort was made to unseat the entire board. He argued that it is a mistake for the respondents to contend that Frazier deliberately omitted to send nominations to the senate to fill places claimed by Scow and Power. He held that the governor did attempt to make the nominations referred to. "The fact that officers and boards may abuse their powers," recited the assistant attorney general.

He also held that the omission of the customary phrase, "until their successors are legally appointed" from the statute governing the state board of regents was significant and that it deprived Scow and Power of any legal grounds for holding over after the expiration of their terms. Lawrence quoted several important rulings and opinions which held to the reverse. Justice Robinson suggested that the opinions of these distinguished gentlemen had no more weight with the court than those of the gentlemen at the bar.

TABLES SHOW HOW STATE VALUES TELEGRAPH AND EXPRESS CO. PROPERTY

Interesting tables showing how telegraph and express companies are assessed in North Dakota have been prepared by State Auditor Kositzky. The Soo on the Continental telegraph line of the C. M. & St. P. are shown to be the least valuable wire properties, each being assessed at $85 per mile. The Soo line has 1,314 miles of telegraph, assessed at a total of $111,727, and the Continental has 225 miles assessed at $19,125.45. The Great Northern is assessed $241 per mile on 1984 owned miles, or $261,405, and $120 per mile on 433 operated miles, or $261,405, and $120 per mile on 423 operated miles, or $51,972. The same assessments are levied against the Northern Pacific on 845 miles of owned line, totaling $203,771, and 30 miles of operated line $3,618, against the C. M. & St. P. on 153 miles of owned line, $36,951, and the Chicago & Northwestern on 14 miles of owned line, $3,441. The total assessment against all telegraph properties is $761,782. Express companies are assessed as follows: Great Northern, 1,912 miles, $260,086; Northern, 1,522 miles, $327,967; Soo, 1,214 miles, $149,614; C. M. & St. P., 379 miles, $45,592; Midland, 67 miles, $2,706; C. & N. W., 14 miles, $1,428.

Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, heavy-weight screen champion, has a penchant for Chinese porcelain. His collection is said to be one of the largest in the east. "Fatty's" latest Paramount-Arbuckle comedy two-reel is to be shown at the Bismarck theatre tonight. PRAIRIE CHICKS CAN'T BE STORED; NEW LAW UPHOLD Game Warden William Reko's application for a writ of mandamus compelling Secretary George M. Hogue of the North Dakota game and fish board to issue permits for the storage of prairie chickens, claimed on the ground that the provision of the old game laws permitting the storage of prairie chickens had not been repealed by the new act passed by the last legislature, was denied today by Judge Nesselt in district court, who ruled that the old law has been repealed, and that the new statute, prohibiting the storage of prairie chickens, governs.

This afternoon in supreme court the constitutionality or validity of the statute prohibiting Sunday shooting is being tested in a friendly suit in which A. K. Davis of Fargo appears as appellant. Davis was arrested in Cass county for Sunday shooting, and he appealed to the supreme court. He is being represented by Attorney Seth Richardson of Fargo, while Assistant Attorney General Foster is handling the state's case.

DRAFTED MEN PURCHASED RELEASE WITH MONEY

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 14.—Frauds under the selective draft law which threatened to involve exemption officials in St. Joseph and Buchanan counties in Missouri, have been uncovered by Francis M. Wilson, U. S. District Attorney, announced today. One man who wished to escape the draft confessed, secret service man say, that it cost him $220 for his release. Other disclosures led them to the offices of a county official, where they found $800, believed to have been obtained by the same means.

MINISTERS NEED NOT SUBJECT TO PHYSICAL EXAMINATION IN DRAFT

Governor Frazier today advised local boards that if convinced that a person called is subject to exemption or discharge as a divinity student or as a duly ordained minister, the physical examination may be postponed until after it has heard and decided the claims for exemption or discharge, and if the claim is sustained, the physical examination of the minister or divinity student may be dispensed with.

HOW ABOUT IT REPUBLICANS?

The editor of The Tribune is in receipt of the following telegram from the NEW YORK WORLD:

Missouri democrats have called a convention to condemn the course of the two United States senators and call on them to resign. The World editorially says it would be a good thing if the republicans of North Dakota addressed a similar message to Senator Gronna.

Gronna's attempts to cripple the administration are as despicable as can be, but those who know Gronna understand that only the winning hand at death could remove him from office before his term was up. He does not belong to the type of men who resign as the New York Times well said. He went to Washington for a rest and his political existence is wholly in the hands of Senator Robert M. La Follette.

"SPURLOS VERSENKT."

Day by day the proof of German ruthlessness, German mendacity, German outlawry, grows. Day by day the indictment against kaiserdom mounts and mounts, until all the world—except Germany—is appalled.

Drop for the moment their barbarous cruelties in wantonly and purposely bombing hospitals, which hit-grito have been held immune even by semi-savage races, and just consider how the masks have been torn from the faces of the German diplomatic liars in the past few months—in each case through American instrumentalities.

Our own state department revealed that while we were still at peace with Germany, Prussian intriguers were trying to bribe Mexico and Japan to war on us. Caught with the goods, the Germans cynically avowed that it was perfectly proper in time of peace to prepare for war against a friendly power by seeking to enmesh it in the coils.

In the past few days an American newspaper man, working in Russia, has revealed the telegrams exchanged between Kaiser "Willy" and Czar "Nicky." In these, Wilhelm Hohenzollern, who has constantly and lyingly tried to shift his own blood-guilt to others by averting that other nations started the war, was revealed as striving for a temporary alliance between Germany, Russia and France, whose object was to isolate Great Britain and make that country an easy prey for the war Germany desired to make upon her. That object achieved, the turn of France, of Russia and of America would have come later—if they stood in the path of German ambitions. Again and again German apologists have attempted an alibi as to the reasons that impelled them to violate the neutrality of little Belgium. But in these telegrams the kaiser was revealed frankly stating to the czar that in case of war between Germany and Britain, he would invade and seize Denmark if it became necessary for his objects.

And in the past few days, once more due to our own state department, has come another revelation of German methods and of German barbarity. The German charge at Buenos Aires, knowing he could not send cables to Germany over his own signature, sent them through the medium of the Swedish minister to Argentina.

The crime is both Swedish and German. The excuses so far offered by the Swedes show the extent to which they are non-plussed by the sweeping revelation. It was a flagrant breach of neutrality, that definitely placed Sweden as an ally of Germany. But the graver crime is that of Germany. That country had a dispute with Argentina about the sinking of the latter's ships. While the two nations were at peace, while Count Luxburg, Germany's minister, was the guest of the Argentine people, he was recommending that in the future, if Germany wanted to sink Argentine vessels, they be "tracelessly sunk"—"spurlos versenkt."

That can mean only one thing: not only blow up the vessels, but kill the crews, so the disappearance of the ships will forever remain a mystery. Nothing more cruel, more cold-blooded, has been revealed even about Germany.

Just as Bethmann-Hollweg's contemptuous reference to the treaty with Belgium as "a mere scrap of paper" will always be a blot upon Germany, so will Count Luxburg's dastardly policy of "spurlos versenkt."

Such things as these can never be excused, can never be palliated, can never be forgotten. The Luxburg policy is not only a policy of murder; it is a policy of murder by stealth and by night. It is the policy of a nation that assassinates and seeks to hide the evidences of its crimes, so that it may not be arraigned before the bar of international justice.

WANT PEACE.

The German people want peace—soon.

They dread another winter of war conditions. They know how terrible are the sufferings of the men in the trenches when the cold blasts sweep down, freezing their feet, numbing their fingers, chilling their lungs.

They know the toll of death taken by rheumatism and pneumonia.

They also fear the winter at home—with scant food, cold homes, shivering women and children, and dying old people.

All these things put the leaders in a mood to call an end to the war, if only the allies will fall into the trap of a German peace.

There are undoubtedly mutterings among the German people. There is undoubtedly unrest in the German army. And these things are heightened by the fact that the British have won ground from the Germans in Flanders, the French in France, and the Italians in Austria.

In such a state of affairs, with the allies on the western and Italian fronts more than standing firm, with America preparing to throw its great power into the scale, there was great need for something that would hearten the German army and the German people. Therefore, there ensued the campaign which resulted in the taking of the Baltic port of Riga.

It was not really a fight. It was a cake-walk. The Russian army on that front has degenerated into a mere cowardly mob. It did not put up even the semblance of a battle. It gave up Riga without even taking the trouble to destroy guns and munitions and supplies.

Hardly ever in the history of war has an invading army had so easy a time. The winning of Riga adds no laurels to the German arms. But the exigencies of the situation at home require that this Riga business be inflated.

The German people must be lifted out of their depression. They must be made to forget the failures in Flanders, at Verdun and on the Isonzo front. They must be given some rhetorical pap.

The result is that by acceleration on the part of the officials, Berlin is all befogged in honor of the Riga victory. The bells are rung jubilantly—and they have not so been rung since the mighty Hindenburg was made generalissimo.

And the kaiser falls in line. Replying to a congratulatory message from the merchants of Lubeck, William Hohenzollern, in his usual pompous style, says:

"The important success of our heroic troops again proves to the world and our enemies that Germany's army and people, although ready to terminate the terrible war, are firmly determined with unbroken strength and unshaken will for victory to carry through to a happy and the war of defense."

Romanoff then Korfloff. Haha! Days for the "offs" in Petrograd.

Translated for the kaiser: a king and his crown are soon parted.

It begins to look as though the death penalty in United States might be restored to good effect, especially where treason is concerned.

The Chicago Post says he "A Sammy Backer." Just tuck this under your "lid" and buy a ticket to the Elks benefit dance, Friday evening.

Auto makers are going to cut out the cutout. Now if they'll just cut out the let-out, walking may resume its standing as one of the safer outdoor sports.

A Boston woman sues because she is no longer able to wear a number three shoe. Why not move to Chicago, and turn her disgrace into an asset?

As a war economy, retail clothiers in national session have decided against all unnecessary style changes. Here's the biggest chance yet for a woman's auxiliary to help the war.

Carrance is howling for money and howling strong. Why not loan him something and take a 27 per cent mortgage on Lower California as security? But maybe it wouldn't be treating Gov. Cantu in a fiesta way.

"Even the hairs of a man's head are numbered." "They must have hung the 'Twenty-third sign' on mine," quoth the baldhead.

WITH THE EDITORS

THE RED CROSS ABROAD.

(New York Times.)

Chairman Henry P. Davison's report to the American people on the activities of the American Red Cross in Europe should be read by everybody who can get it, in order to gain an idea of the great scope of that institution's work. The comprehensive nature of its care for our soldiers abroad and for the war sufferers, in France is, if not fully understood, at least imagined by most people; but its labors reach into many other lands, of whose great needs we have had no more than a hint.

For instance, we have heard much of Belgium and Hungary, Armenia, yet Armenia is far the greater sufferer. The Davison report, which says that nearly a million Armenians were massacred or driven to death in 1915 and the remainder deported "into the desert regions where no support was possible," that 200,000 Greeks have been reported as dead, that 1,000,000 Armenian children, and that 2,000,000 people in Western Asia are saved from death only by the constant aid of the American Red Cross, gives an idea of tragedies even greater than Belgium's Serbia, with four-fifths of her army gone and her civilian population "hunted over the face of Europe," is another appalling picture. But everywhere the American Red Cross follows hard on the track of ruin, and is not distracted from the rescue by the vast demands imposed on it by America's entry into the war.

The report gives an illuminating idea of the way in which American organizing skill rises above the emergency.

Women's Autumn Coats
Vested with Personality

THERE are certain Style qualities that alone make for Superiority in so universally favored a fashion as the coat-mode of full length.

The elements make unusual the favored Georgette model pictured are especially noteworthy.

The new and most exquisite Pom Pom is the fabric, and fashions introduces a shoulder yoke into which a cluster of plaits is laid. The scarf collar is cleverly designed to fasten over the yoke line with three buttons. Pekin, Beestoot, Mole and Tile are the fabric colors, and especially attractive are the novelty linings employed. $50.00

HOW RASPUTIN WAS SLAIN

Poisoned, He Attacked His Enemy and Was Shot in the Head; Then He Rose, Put on His Coat, and Was Found Dead in the Street; Czarina Erected a Memorial to Him.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
 (Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

The young man that undertook to rid the earth of Rasputin, the "mad duke," although he was a doctor, had no idea of the great scope of that institution's work. The comprehensive nature of its care for our soldiers abroad and for the war sufferers, in France is, if not fully understood, at least imagined by most people; but its labors reach into many other lands, of whose great needs we have had no more than a hint.

The doctor advised poison as a quiet, efficacious way of dealing with persons of the Rasputin sort, and suggested cyanide of potassium. That there should be no blunder nor slip-up, he experimented with a dose of this remedy on a large dog. The dog died instantly, and the doctor made an estimate of a somewhat larger amount necessary to "overcome Rasputin's great vitality."

The duke meantime sought the acquaintance of the faking monk and got his confidence, which was not easily had. It was the duke's account of the ladies that were alleged to be dying for the love of the faking that did the business.

The duke owned a large and handsome house, and what he was maneuvering for was to get Rasputin at night and alone into that house. He was not readily separated from his bodyguard, but he finally agreed to come at 10 o'clock on a certain night, and meet these ladies that so much desired his acquaintance, but shied at the bodyguard.

The doctor fixed up the poison dose, putting it into some cakes.

At 10 o'clock Rasputin appeared and was received at the door by the duke.

The houses of the well-to-do in Russia usually have a large reception room on the ground floor, and the parlors on the floor above. The duke's house was so arranged.

It was a bitter cold night, even for Petrograd in the middle of winter. There was a blinding fire in the fireplace of the reception room. Rasputin was divested of his magnificent fur overcoat and fur cap and led before the fire.

"Before we go upstairs to see the ladies," said the duke, "we will sit here a moment and have a glass of wine."

So the wine and the poisoned cakes were brought in.

But at first Rasputin would take no refreshment and sat before the fire, looking rather with an expression of disdain at the duke's offer. He spun a web of flattery around the faking monk, continually arousing his curiosity about the fair ladies above. Finally, Rasputin, apparently convinced that all was well, accepted a glass of wine and ate two of the cakes.

The duke stood by expecting to see him fall dead.

He didn't fall dead. In a few minutes he complained of feeling ill and bent forward in front of the fire, his hands upon his stomach. Then he looked up with an expression of disdain at the duke. He understood that he had been poisoned.

Still he continued to live.

The duke became frightened and ran up the stairs to the doctor, who was waiting in a room on the floor above.

"He is the devil," he cried. "That poison did not kill him and he knows that I gave it to him. The next minute he will go out and give the alarm!"

"Take your revolver," said the doctor, "and go down and finish him."

The duke took the revolver and slipped down the stairs. Rasputin sat in the same position, bent over the fire. The duke came behind and shot him through the head. Rasputin fell prone upon the floor.

The duke ran upstairs to tell the doctor.

"That man is evidently the most extraordinary vitality," said the doctor. "You had better go down again and make sure he is dead."

The duke returned. Rasputin lay apparently lifeless, stretched out before the fire. The duke bent over him to see if he still breathed and the terrible creature suddenly gripped him around the ankles and clung there, frothing at the mouth and cursing.

The duke struggled to win free, but Rasputin hung on. At last the duke made a sudden and desperate leap, wrenching himself from the madman's grasp and belted-up stairs, almost hysterical.

"He is certainly the devil," he yelled to the doctor. "He is still alive, after all that."

"Take the revolver again," said the doctor, "and we will go down together and finish him."

They went downstairs and were stricken dumb and shaking with amazement and terror.

The place was empty. The fur overcoat and fur cap were missing from the rack at the door. The man had vanished.

Absolute ruin stared them in the face. Rasputin had gone forth knowing of the double attempt on his life. Within an hour the two of them would be in prison cells and as good as dead.

While they stood there quaking and staring, suddenly there came a loud rapping on the front door.

The doctor, half mad with fright at the supernatural feat that seemed to have overwhelmed them, pulled himself together enough to stagger to the door and get it open.

A perfect stranger stood there. He said:

"A man has fallen in the street before your house. Do you know anything about it?"

The doctor went into the street and found the body of Rasputin lying on the road and it was Rasputin dead at last.

"With all that poison in him and a bullet in his head, he had arisen, put on his overcoat and cap, opened the street door and crossed the sidewalk to the middle of the road before he dropped."

They carried the body into the house, got it out the back way into an automobile and took it down the Nevsky to a lonesome spot, where they thrust it through a hole in the ice.

There is a strong current in the Neva. By daylight the body should have been carried out to sea and lost.

At daylight a carter driving along the shore saw something black protruding from the ice, went out to investigate and found the body of Rasputin.

The czarina was wild with grief. She erected a beautiful mausoleum on the palace grounds and every day she went to weep over the coffin.

The people did not weep. And on the second day of the revolution a party of stalwart men in black top boots went out to the palace and broke open the mausoleum and took the body out to the middle of the street and burned it there.

Many versions of Rasputin's end have been printed in America. This is the version that was told among the best informed in Petrograd when I was there. I have fairly good reason to believe it is substantially correct.

The program is not yet completed, pending final word of a speaker from another state but some very interesting features are planned. Father Ott. Mrs. R. Carlander, sister of the groom, and John Wallis were the attendants. Mr. Long and his bride spent a few days with the groom's parents in Jamestown, returning last evening. They will reside in Bismarck for the present.

Reception For Teachers.
One of the interesting affairs of the week was the reception last evening in the First Presbyterian church chapel for the public school teachers. The affair was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the church. Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Postlethwaite, Superintendent and Mrs. J. Maurice Martin and Mrs. Robert Orr, received the guests. A musical program was a feature and was presented by Carl Peterson, pianist; Miss Orr, Mrs. H. L. Stegner, vocalists; Miss Sigrid Alfson, Alfred Hendrickson, violinists. Miss Alfhild Alfson accompanied Miss Alfson and Mr. Hendrickson. Miss Geraldine Penwarden gave two splendid readings. Rev. Mr. Postlethwaite welcomed the teachers and H. P. Goddard gave an interesting talk of their work and life in the Capital City. A large representation of the church and friends of the teachers attended.

Freeman-Soules Nuptials.
A wedding of interest to some residents was solemnized Wednesday, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Soules in Dickinson, when their daughter, Miss Frances Soules became the bride of Elliot Freeman, assistant cashier of the Merchants National bank of that place. The service was read by Rev. J. G. Duling of the First Congregational church. Miss Margery Johnson, daughter of R. H. Johnson of Dickinson, was maid of honor and Oscar Ford was best man. During the service Miss Mildred Perkins sang "Until." The groom is the only son of Captain and Mrs. C. N. Darker, the former captain of Company K, First N. D. Infantry. The bride is well and favorably known in social circles of that city and is an ardent of much talent. Mr. Freeman and his bride are enjoying their honeymoon in the Twin Cities. They will reside in Dickinson. Serg. James Soules, Jr., of the headquarters Co., N. D., national guard, only brother of the bride, was among the wedding guests.

RETURNS FROM VISIT WITH MOTHER

Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Theo Ramsey, the former of the Congregational church of Wilton, arrived in the city today from Chicago, where they have been visiting the last two weeks with Mrs. Ramsey's mother, Mrs. Echblad, who two months ago arrived in this country from near Hassja, Sweden, to make her home.

Mrs. Echblad was accompanied to this country by a daughter residing in Chicago and two younger children, who made their home with their mother in Sweden. Although Mrs. Echblad is in her 63rd year, she stood the trip fine and is glad she is in America. Conditions in Sweden are bad, she told Mrs. Ramsey. Food is scarce and hard to get. She thinks Sweden is harder hit by the war than Norway.

Mrs. Echblad is of the opinion that the Swedish people are not for the Teutons. That it is the royalty who favors the Kaiser.

The Echblad family are now all in America. Mrs. Ramsey had not seen her mother for seven years.

THE MOTHER'S TASK

The Parting, the Waiting for News That Never Comes, the Thrill of Pride in the Knowledge That Your Man-Child Is Not Afraid to Do His Bit, All That Loyal American Motherhood Means.

(D. D. McDonald in Los Angeles Citizen.)

Did your boy join the army, little mother; and are you grieving about it until your heart is nearly broken? Did you kiss him goodbye that morning he left, and suppress the tears by a great effort, so he would not go away feeling so badly because he knew you cared so much?

When you were packing his grip and had all of his things spread out upon the bed to be sure you had forgotten nothing, did you drop on your knees and ask God to watch over and care for your boy through the dangerous days that were to come?

Did you retrace his steps back to childhood, to the days in the little cottage, when there were just John and you and the boy—your own wonderful boy?

Then did you follow him as he grew day by day, until you told his dad one evening after he had gone to bed that he was big enough to wear pants?

And did you remember how proud you both were of your boy—your only son?

Then did you see him the day he first started to school, with his book that you had covered with a gay piece of calico held tightly in his hand?

Little mother, did you think of the great feeling of thankfulness and pride that welled up in your heart that morning as your boy turned around and waved his hand at you as he disappeared around the corner? Did you remember how long the morning was, and how you clasped him in your arms when he came home at noon? You remember, you were watching for him long before time for him to get home; and all the time you were thinking: "Ah, suppose something should happen to my boy, and I should never see him again!"

Do you remember that even when other children came your love for your firstborn did not grow less; but that it grew faster and greater all the time?

And then, when you had traced his whole life and back again to the present, and the realization came upon you once more that he was going to war, did you throw yourself across the bed where his things were and cry out in your anguish? And, little mother, did you repeat over and over, "Oh, I can't give him up, I can't give him up!"

And did you finally steel yourself to pack his clothes in his grip, carefully examining every sock to see that it was perfectly darned, and examining every garment to see that no buttons were missing?

And then, a week after he was gone, did you go with his father and sister and brothers to see him where he was encamped with his company? And did you feel proud of your son when you saw him in the new uniform of his country. And did you not think him the finest looking soldier in all the command? And do you remember how pleased he was when you gave him the cakes and pies and jellies you had fixed for him?

Little mother, your boy has answered the call of his country in its time of need, and how proud of him you must be—proud to know that your son—flesh of your flesh—was not afraid to go, and did not shrink his duty!

When the greatest trial of all comes to you, when you stand in front of the bulletin boards and watch, dry eyed, as the list of the killed and wounded is posted up, you will still feel a thrill of joy that your boy, your first born, was not afraid to go when his country called.

Little mother, it is to you and your kind that America owes its greatness today. You have always showed the dauntless spirit in time of danger; and have stood shoulder to shoulder with your husband and sons whenever it became necessary.

WISCONSIN LOAFERS DOOMED TO WORK

Madison.—The "loafers" is to be driven from Wisconsin. The state council of defense has decreed that every able-bodied male over the age of sixteen years must do his bit. Rich man, poor man alike, every sheriff, deputy sheriff, town constable and village marshal in the state having received instructions to carry out the order.

'IT'S ALL RIGHT, EDDIE'S PITCHING' AND CHICAGO IS CONTENTED WHEN CICOTTE TOES THE SLAB

BY PAUL PURMAN

Chicago, Sept. 14.—It took Eddie Cicotte y'ars and y'ars to become a popular hero.

Most of these baseball heroes are born in a day, some when they have scarcely been heard of before.

But not so with Cicotte. He became a hero, just like he does everything else by persistent effort, and the best thing about it is that the little unassuming Frenchman won't admit even to himself that he is a hero.

But here in Chicago you can stop even a discussion of Mayor "Big Bill" Thompson's latest faux pas by mentioning Cicotte's name.

For to Cicotte, more than to any other person, is credit given for putting the White Sox way out on top, from which, even ardent Boston fans will reluctantly admit, it will be quite some little job to dislodge them.

And it is on Cicotte that the White Sox fans depend mainly to crush McGraw's brilliant Giants.

In a short series like the annual classic Cicotte can pitch every other day, and around Chicago they believe Eddie has just the kind of stuff that McGraw's versatile batting staff will not care a great deal about.

What is the secret of Cicotte's success?

In a good many cities around this league they still tell you it is the shine ball or sailer, which is giving him remarkable success.

In Chicago they declare it's because "he has the stuff."

Cicotte himself believes it is due to hard work and his decade-long study of opposing batters.

It is undoubtedly a combination of the last two with the possibility of the first having something to do with it.

Cicotte undoubtedly "has the stuff on the ball." Whether he gets this from the shine ball or not is relatively unimportant now.

Around the circuit they say it is impossible for a pitcher to be doing what Cicotte is doing at 35 without some artificial aid. Cicotte and his teammates, naturally aren't talking about the shine ball.

Be that as it may Cicotte has won 23 games so far this year, more than any other American League pitcher and to do that he must have ability whether he uses a shine ball or not.

Much of Cicotte's success is undoubtedly due to his study of opposing batsmen. There probably has been no pitcher in baseball with the exception of Mathewson who gave so much of his attention to this.

Naturally studious Cicotte scarcely ever "grooves" the ball for an opponent, and usually is able by his unceasing control to place it where he knows the batsman is weak.

It is indeed strange that Cicotte should have his best season after a decade or more of rather unprepossessing seasons, but there is nothing meteoric about Eddie and there is no question that he has been greatly underrated in the past. In his entire career with the Red and White Sox Cicotte has allowed an average of 2.19 earned runs per game, an accomplishment which few of the more brilliant pitchers in either league has achieved.

There is nothing erratic about Eddie. That is why when his name is announced to the stands Chicago breathes a sigh of relief, sits back easily in the seat and says:

"It's all right, Eddie will do it."

BRITAIN TRAINS YOUTH FOR ARMY

Thousands of Boys Given Preliminary Drilling for Service as Soldiers.

RESERVES OF THE FUTURE

Work is Carefully Laid Out to Avoid Strain, Physical or Mental—Education for These Needed It.

London.—Great Britain has something like five million men in its military forces. General Robertson announced that another half-million must be provided in order to maintain reserves and keep the fighting units up to full strength. When this 500,000 have been provided there will be another demand for further augmentations later.

The inexorable demands from the trenches must be met somehow. How they are to be met, how man power is continually to be provided to meet the wastage of war is indicated by the progressive organization of the country's youth for training in anticipation of the time when they shall arrive at military age.

All over the country battalions of boys, none of them beyond the age of eighteen years and eight months, are being systematically trained for the army. Schoolboys, college boys, apprentices—youth of all classes—as soon as they are physically capable of undertaking the work of training, are put into the organizations for preparation.

Strain Carefully Avoided.

Careful measures have been adopted to insure that they shall not be overtrained, and either physically or mentally injured by the strain. Officers in charge of these organizations of boys have been provided with special instructions as to the service that may safely be demanded. A good deal of discretion in this regard is left to commanding officers and drill masters, but after all the purpose is to equip the national youth for soldierly service as rapidly and efficiently as possible.

Much lighter requirements, however, are imposed on the youngest class of prospective soldiers. They are given graduated instruction in various drills for the purpose of hardening their physiques. Games, lectures and educational work are provided in addition to ordinary military training.

There are twelve fortnightly periods in the training course for youth of this class. In the first period of two weeks 64 hours of work are required, of which 12 hours are given to games and educational work. After the first period 14 hours are set aside in each fortnightly period for these purposes.

Such games as cricket, football and boxing are particularly prized for their effect on the physique of the recruit. Participation in these is compulsory. At the outset every young man is inoculated, vaccinated and given a thorough dental overhauling. This limits the possible activities of many of them during the first six weeks of their training. After these preliminary troubles are over, the organizations settle into a regular scheme involving 84 hours' work per fortnight, or six hours' work daily, including Sunday.

How the Work is Divided.
At this stage of his training the recruit gets in each fortnightly period ten hours of general physical training, six hours of bayonet exercises, 18 hours of squad drill, 18 hours of musketry and range practice, two hours devoted to interior economy, three hours on night work, three hours on guard duty, two hours on antiaircraft training, three hours of route marching without packs, two hours for special lectures and 14 hours for games and education.

Every soldier must learn all about taking care of his clothes, kit and equipment and instruction in these departments is referred to as "interior economy." Then it is necessary to give very careful instruction in the importance of discipline as a military factor, hygiene, sanitation, first aid and minor casualties, trench warfare, concealment and co-operation of infantry with artillery and aircraft.

The importance of the educational course must not be underestimated. A good many boys with extremely rudimentary schooling are taken into these organizations. Those who need it are given the most elementary educational opportunity, while the more advanced ones are provided instruction in subjects most likely to be of military utility.

During the first four weeks of the course route marching with kits is forbidden, lest it impose too heavy a physical strain. After they are properly conditioned they are gradually broken into these heavier phases of duty, and the fourth fortnight's training in running and route marching with kits begins, also bombing practice with dummy bombs. This is followed by the beginning of general musketry practice and studies in field engineering. Officers in these boy battalions are directed to take note of the special aptitudes of their recruits for particular kinds of service with the purpose of giving them training for noncommissioned officers, and ultimately for commissions.

Youngsters of poor physique or weak health are especially classified and are given a number of weeks of special light training with the purpose of building them up before they shall undertake the serious work of being turned into soldiers. In this regard alone the benefits accruing to many thousands of young men have been incalculable.

If you don't believe that Zach Wheat's injured ankle will keep him out of the world's series this fall just look at the National League standings.

King Lear, the former Villanova baseball star, who sat a trial with the Athletics at third base a few seasons ago, is playing clype ball on the Bridgeport team.

DIAMOND NOTES

Like the baseball returns, we all like to read that the U-boat battles shut the enemy out without a hit.

Cardinal fans should know by this time that they cannot injure Empire "Lord Byron" with pop bottles.

As a fly catcher, Benny Kauff, the Giants' center fielder, beats all the glue-covered paper in the world.

Nevertheless there is no reason to suppose that the baseball players who go into the army will try to steal home.

Mike Gonzales, the clear Habana backstop of the Cardinals, is showing the regular article for the Higgins outfit.

Frank Schulte is not doing much in the batting line for the Phillies. He has been sent in as pinch hitter several times.

Walter Rehg, who has been in and out of the big show several times, has become a member of the Stallions Race league.

All N. L. baseball admit Hornsby has improved immensely in the last year, but he still takes a cut at many a bad ball.

It has been many a day since an umpire was panned so hard all along the line as has been Lord Byron this season. Looks as if the National League arbitrator has been chucked in among the goats.

The record time for a game in the National league this season was made by the Phillies and Reds on July 16 when the contest was reeled off in an hour and 11 minutes. Regan and Alexander were at their best and there was no use waiting them out.

WRITES THRILLING WAR TALE

Randall Parrish, Lecturer, Civic Expert and Author, Turns Out New Sea Story That Makes Hit.

"The most unusual story of the war," is what the literary editors and book reviewers have said of the novel "Contraband," by Randall Parrish. And having just finished the tale itself, we take sides with them and declare that "Contraband" is a rip-roaring crackerjack of a yarn. It contains more man-size action and heart-warming romance to the chapter than anything in the way of fiction we have read since the year of the Big War. Briefly, "Contraband" is a recital of the adventures of a young man who tries to sneak a ship load of copper across the ocean into Germany a few days after war was declared.

Of course there's a girl in the story—a wonderful girl with tender eyes and soft hair and grace and charm and sweetness and courage. If it hadn't been for her, the hero would have left the ship, crew, copper and Germany to their fate—but she made the difference. Now here's a secret—we are going to run "Contraband" as a serial in this paper soon. Keep your eyes peeled for further announcement.

THE SUN KISSES THEM BACK TO HEALTH

The Rollier sunbath treatment to tuberculosis is now being used in this country. These children are patients at the Adair Memorial hospital at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., conducted by the city of Poughkeepsie. The treatment is confined to children with incipient tuberculosis. It originated in the Swiss Alps. The children are required to spend as much time as possible outdoors in the sunlight.

TRAIL BUILDER TO TALK AT BIG LEMMON EVENT

George N. Keniston Principal Speaker at Flag-Raising for Interstate Fair

Lemmon, N. D., Sept. 14.—George N. Keniston, secretary of the Bismarck Commercial club and North Dakota's best known transcontinental trail builder, father of both the Yellow and the Red trails, and now working on the Devils Lake, Bismarck and Black Hills trail, will be the principal speaker at the flag-raising which will usher in the annual interstate fair here next Tuesday. Mr. Keniston will talk on the influence of national highways on the development of the northwest. While here he will arrange with the directors of the Devils Lake, Bismarck and Black Hills trail, which passes through Lemmon and forms a connecting link in a great international highway extending from Winnipeg to Denver, for a meeting of the executive committee to be held this week in Bismarck, where a definite plan for the financing and promotion of the trail will be worked out.

Most Old People Are Constipated

The wear of years impairs the action of the bowels. As people grow older they restrict their activity, neglect to take sufficient exercise, and indulge in sedentary disposition to take things easy. The digestive organs become more sensitive to the demands made upon them and rebel more quickly. It is of special importance to the health of elderly people that the bowels be kept normally active. A mild, yet effective, remedy for constipation, and one that is especially suited to the needs of old folks, women and children, is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It costs only fifty cents a bottle, and should be in every family medicine chest. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. D. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Bevo

A BEVERAGE

Bevo is a great favorite in the Army Canteens, where none but pure, soft drinks may be sold. After drill or march, you are sure to see a long line of hot and dusty-throated soldier boys making a bee line for Bevo. They know that there lies complete satisfaction, full refreshment and pure wholesomeness. At home or abroad—at work or play—between meals or with meals, you will appreciate what we have done for you in making this triumph in soft drinks. You will find Bevo at soda fountains, grocery departments, and drug stores, public houses, baseball parks, soda fountains, dining cars, in the navy, at canteens, at mobilization camps and other places where refreshing beverages are sold.

PIONEER MINISTER OF NORTH DAKOTA DIES AT HOME OF ILLINOIS SON

Rev. Royal Jasper Kellogg, Founder of Bowman Church, Passes at Age of 71

Bowman, N. D., Sept. 14.—Rev. Royal Jasper Kellogg, aged 71, a pioneer congregational minister in North Dakota, is dead at the home of a son in Galesburg, Ill. Rev. Kellogg had been in the ministry fifty years, during a majority of which time he did pioneer missionary work. Ten years ago he came to this county from Dickinson and filed on a homestead. He freighted into Bowman from his homestead one Sunday and conducted the first religious service ever held here. While living on his claim, he conducted regular services here and finally succeeded in building the Bowman Congregational church and parsonage, of which he was pastor for some time before taking a new charge in Foster county, where he remained until his advancing years compelled him to give up the ministry.

NOT TO ADVERTISE LIBERTY BONDS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—Secretary McAdoo's statement to the senate finance committee on the war profits bill indicates that the newspaper advertising campaign for the next issue of Liberty loan bonds advocated by the Publishers' association will not be adopted. Minot, N. D., Sept. 14.—Adequate church facilities for Norwegian members of the national army will be provided at all cantonments, and especially at Camp Dodge, where thousands of Norwegians from the northwest will be concentrated, advises R. It is anticipated that in similar work at all of the cantonments, the Norwegian Lutherans will expend more than $75,000.

Lemon Juice a Beautifier

How to prepare a beauty cream at little cost. Says lemon juice alone is too highly acid. Try this on face, neck, arms and hands!

Many Women use just the juice of lemons to bleach or whiten the skin and to bring out the hidden beauty of the face. But pure lemon juice is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white.

At the cost of a small jar of orchard white cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it. Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy or toilet counter and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to bring back to any skin the whiteness, the sweet freshness and flexibility of which it has been robbed by carelessness or trying atmospheric conditions.
